

Henderson, Calen
Using K2 to find Free-floating Planets

K2's Campaign 9 will conduct a  $\sim 5$  square-degree survey toward the Galactic bulge to detect exoplanets via microlensing. By combining K2 data with ground-based photometry and high-resolution follow-up, it is possible to detect and confirm free-floating planets.